ir Brussels summer needs a soundtrack that feels like dancing on a rooftop until the starts running again, V-DJ Castor just dropped one for you s://www.instagram.com/steve.wauters) on mixcloud s://www.mixcloud.com/vdjcastor/).

ueer-friendly summer in one long mix ner Mashup Hitmix 2026 pulls together 28 dance, house and feel-good tracks from is like John Summit, Madonna & Peggy Gou, Calvin Harris, Kungs, Lost Frequencies, o, Bruno Mars and more, and blends them into one continuous, high-energy set. It's the of mix that works just as well for getting ready for a night out, driving to the coast, or ng a small balcony into a club for you and your chosen family.

racklist leans into mainstream and club pop, but the way it's stitched together feels very culture queer: big vocals, emotional drops, hands-in-the-air choruses, plus some r edges for when you need to sweat out the week. Mashed up transitions keep the y moving rather than stopping and starting — ideal if you're hosting, cruising, or just g to stay in your body instead of in your head.

y it works for our crowd

GBTQIA+ and allied listeners, sets like this matter because they offer a low-pressure to plug into the wider club sound without needing to be in the club every night. You snapshot of what's playing in festivals, radios and dancefloors, filtered through one who clearly loves feel-good, accessible, melodic tracks as much as heavier grooves.
